Providing Care to People Living with Dementia

COMMUNITY EDUCATION PROGRAM

Presented by

Christie Norrick, MSW

Project Manager, Leonard Schanfield Research Institute

This is the second presentation in a two part series, in which participants will learn strategies to be better care partners for people living with dementia. Hands-on skills to provide assistance with activities of daily living such as bathing and eating will be reviewed. The focus of this presentation will be on specific strategies that involve the person with dementia as an active participant in their care so that they can maintain skills and feel more comfortable. The presenter will also share resources for further learning. Part One of this series, Brain & Behavior Changes with Dementia will focus on the physical changes that take place in the brain during the course of dementia, will be offered on October 8 at 11 am. Both programs will be recorded and will be available for future viewing.
